Navigating the Art World

Original artwork is one of the hallmarks of a graciously appointed home.

But there's a lot of confusion about art these days. Folks are overwhelmed by the vast amount of artwork available in the marketplace and they might even doubt their own good judgement.

I understand the ins-and-outs of the art world.I graduated from the Rhode Island School of Design and have been a professional artist for over 25 years.

I deal directly with my customers to insure that they get artwork that they absolutely love and that they have a great art-buying experience. Also, my clients know that they have a trusted advisor inside the art world who strives to serve them at the highest possible level.
